

Leader to Leader Series – Special Event

An Australian Public Service Commission Program

SES

Future proofing: the case for strategic human capital planning

An address by Ann Sherry AO, CEO Carnival Australia, hosted by the Australian Public Service Commissioner, Stephen Sedgwick.

Leader to Leader is a series of strategic discussions aimed at stimulating debate about APS-wide challenges and future Public Sector reforms. Participants will have the opportunity to ask questions of this exciting guest speaker and discuss issues further while networking with their SES colleagues.

Overview

In a complex and networked organisation such as the Australian Public Service, faced with increasingly interconnected and interdependent challenges, the importance of workforce capability has never been more relevant.

The Prime Minister's Advisory Group on Reform of Australian Government Administration is considering how the APS needs the highest quality workforce to meet the challenges ahead, and the importance of a more strategic approach to human capital planning.

In her presentation, Ann will share her views and experiences of workforce planning in this context. In particular, she will provide insights into the benefits of using a systematic/structured approach, drawing on the experience of capability deployment and development in comparably large trans-national organisations.

About the speaker

Ms Sherry is Chief Executive of Carnival Australia, the largest cruise ship operator in the region. Prior to this she was the Chief Executive of Westpac in New Zealand and Chief Executive of the Bank of Melbourne. She also has an extensive public sector background, having been the Head of the Office of the Status of Women in the Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet, and holding a number of senior roles in the Victorian Public Service.

Ms Sherry is also Chair of the Queensland Public Service Commission Board of Commissioners and a member of the Advisory Group on Reform of Australian Government Administration.
