

SES Breakfast

An Australian Public Service Commission Program

SES

Public Policy in a changing world:

Why good policy still matters – and how to make it?

These events provide participants with a forum to hear and interact with leading speakers on contemporary issues, which are relevant to their work.

Program overview

Australia and Canada face many similar challenges in the changing global economy. Mr Lynch will speak to the strategic issues faced by two middle powers in a multi-polar world, particularly in the wake of the global financial crisis, and the significant role that public policy continues to play in responding to the major challenges of our times. Mr Lynch will address the importance of the public service to making good policy in the Westminster system and will discuss ways to reinvigorate its capacity to develop innovative policy – from core values and culture to expanded collaborations with other sectors.

This is the inaugural lecture of the Canada-Australia Public Policy Initiative, an initiative designed to deepen and formalise relationships between the two governments through an exchange of knowledge, experience and approaches on shared governance and public policy challenges.

About the speaker

Kevin Lynch is a Canadian economist and former Clerk of the Privy Council and Secretary to the Cabinet, Canada's most senior civil servant. Born in Nova Scotia, he holds a Bachelor of Arts degree, a Master of Economics degree and a PhD in Economics.

Mr Lynch began his career with the Bank of Canada in 1976; a few years later he joined the Department of Finance, rising quickly through the ranks to become Director in 1983. In 2000, Mr Lynch took up the role of Deputy Minister of the Department of Finance.

In 2006, Mr Lynch became the 20th Clerk of the Privy Council, serving in this role until 2009, when he stood down. He was sworn in as a member of the Queen's Privy Council for Canada giving him the pre-nominal title "The Honourable" and post-nominal letters "PC" for life.
